WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

CLAUDE BUCKLEY.

GEO. A. LEWIS.

BUCKLEY & LEWIS,

Editors and Publishers.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 27, 1880.

Sunday Law in the Churches.

During the discourse at the Baptist Church in this city last Sunday morning, the minister read some extracts from the Yeoman and Louisville Commercial of last week, advocating the repeal of the Sunday Law, and said, "the man who sets himself up to be a teacher of the people and former of public morals, and gives utterance to such a doctrine as this, deserves the execration of every man of common decency and common honesty. He is an enemy to the people, to the community, and the motives which prompt him to this course are unworthy of a brute. It is palpably an error of the heart and not of the head." He "pitied the man who was so ignorant as to believe that Constantine, or any other human being, was the originator of Sunday." To show the fallacy of such an idea he read an extract from "authority higher than the writers of such doctrines ever saw."

He said he went into the editorial sanctum of the writer of the extracts he had been reading, and said writer voluntarily acknowledged to him that he was sorry that he had "ever entered into a discussion of the Sunday Law."

The pastor of the Christian Church, in his sermon last Sunday night, said that "ninety-nine of every hundred people who are opposed to the enforcement of the Sunday Law are either rum-sellers or rum-sellers' patrons. State offices, courts, banks, dry goods houses, clothing houses, groceries, and hardware stores suspend on Sundays, with perhaps a few exceptions, and the main object of the Sunday Law is to compel the 'exceptions' to suspend business on Sunday too. Any one who advocates the repeal of the Sunday Law is an enemy to society and should be so regarded. Are bar-rooms such moral institutions, and do they exercise such high moral influences in the community that an exception should be made in their favor? Bar-keepers constantly violate two conditions of their contract in selling liquor to minors and to inebriates, and shall we allow them to ignore all three of the restrictions set forth in their bond to the city without a word of protest?

There is no reason why they should be granted exclusive privileges, and they should be made to comply with the law."

To show that the Christian Church occupied no doubtful position on the question of the enforcement of the Sunday Law, the pastor read a statement, authorized by the officers and members of that Church, endorsing Judge W. H. Sneed's action in enforcing the law, and pledging him their influence and support in the matter.

The pastor of the Methodist Church took strong grounds in opposition to advocates for the repeal of the Sunday Law. He said "such men are enemies to society, and stand on the first foundation stone of communism."

Judge W. H. Sneed.

The gentleman whose name heads this article is a young man of more than ordinary ability, refinement, culture, a keen sense of duty, and high moral courage. He is personally one of the most popular men in the county, and enjoys the respect and esteem of all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance.

He is the Police Judge of the city of Frankfort, and, as such, is just now attracting the attention of all the people in and near Frankfort by the course he is pursuing in regard to the enforcement of the Sunday Law. He is evidently not to be deterred from his course by any action the City Council may take in the matter, for he has declared that if the city ordinance is repealed, or if the city police will not report offenders against this law, he will call on the Sheriff and Constable to aid him to enforce the statutory law. He will punish every violator of the Sunday Law who is convicted in his court. He has jurisdiction under the State law, and he will exercise it.

He has taken an oath to have the city ordinances and the State laws enforced, and he will do it without fear or favor.

As Dr. Lewis said in his sermon last Sunday morning, we say, and so say the sovereign people, "all honor to the Judge who has the courage and the inclination to see that the laws are rigidly enforced at any cost."

As will be seen by our Elmville letter, scarlet fever is raging with fatal effect in the northern part of this county, and in a portion of Owen county.

The Holy Bible is the foundation of all law. The same Bible that "deprives the people of a constitutional right" by teaching "thou shalt not steal; thou shalt not kill," also teaches us to "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." It also teaches us that "the Sabbath was made for man," and not for any religious sect, as asserted by the Yeoman.

About two months ago three negro women, Florence Gray, and Charlotte and Ada Gatewood, stole from Mrs. McDonald's millinery store, six trimmed hats. Officer Rupe was informed of the theft at the time, but did not succeed in getting the names of the parties until Monday, when he spent the entire day in search of the stolen goods, and arresting the three women, each one having in her possession one of the stolen hats. Florence Gray has been stealing from the same house before; she took a very handsome felt walking hat early in the fall season, but Mrs. McDonald was unable to get her name or place of residence, until last Monday. She alone is supposed to have taken from twelve to fifteen dollars worth of goods. Mrs. McDonald is very grateful to Officer Rupe for the interest manifested by him in bringing the guilty parties to justice. The girls are out on bail, and will have a preliminary examination next Wednesday, 31st inst.

While a railroad bill was pending in the Senate Wednesday an amendment was offered. A Senator, in his seat, beckoned somebody in the lobby to him, and the president of a railroad corporation approached him. During the conversation between these two persons the railroad official was heard to say, "Oh, yes! let it go; it don't amount to anything." He then resumed his seat in the lobby, when the Senator arose and said, "Mr. Speaker, I am authorized to say we will accept the amendment."

Now, this question presents itself: Is the Senator representing the people's interests or the interests of the railroad corporation? We know he draws his five dollars per day from the people.

Since Jno. Dryden has taken possession of the post-office news depot, the lobby of the post-office has undergone a wonderful change. The woodwork has been repainted, the ceilings whitened, the glasses washed, handsome new shelves put up, and the walls beautifully papered. The whole work is excellently done, but the papering is especially worthy of mention. It was done by Mr. E. L. Bann in the highest style of the art, and it reflects great credit on him, as does the selection of it reflect credit on the good taste of Mr. Dryden. He is an enterprising business man, and is entitled to a liberal share of the public patronage.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Kentucky Industrial Association will be held at the court-house in this city next Saturday, April 3d, at 3 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of electing eleven directors for the ensuing year. A full attendance is earnestly requested.

Good dwelling houses are in demand on the South Side.

Sunday will be discussed at the court-house to-night, at 7½ o'clock, by Mr. Ben Deering. Everybody is invited to hear him.

We are authorized by the Sheriff to say that any person who pays his taxes for 1879 before next Thursday, April 1st, will not be charged with costs.

If some enterprising persons would build a number of good houses on the South Side, they could always find good tenants to occupy them, at good prices.

Mr. Ben Deering is a good talker, and everybody who feels an interest in the welfare of the city should go to the court-house to-night and hear what he has to say about Sunday.

At the solicitation of a large number of citizens of Frankfort, Mr. Ben Deering will speak at the court-house to-night—subject "Sunday." The public is cordially invited to be present.

There will be an open meeting of the Good Templars at Good Templars' Hall, in Old Fellows' Temple, next Thursday evening, April 1st, at 7½ o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited. Several of the best temperance speakers in Frankfort will make short speeches on the occasion.

Mr. W. J. Hughes has removed to Mr. Milton McGrew's house on Logan street, near Third, South Frankfort, and Mrs. H. Evans has removed to the house just vacated by Mr. W. J. Hughes, South Side. Judge McManama has rented Mrs. Evans' house on Lewis street and will shortly remove his family to this city.

Mr. J. P. Starks, of the firm of Crutcher & Starks, leaves for New York Monday next for their second importation of spring goods this season. They bought largely early in the season, before the heavy advance in woollens, and are able to offer to the trade goods at about the same old prices. Their goods are all bought for cash and their customers get the benefit of their close purchases. Go early and select your spring suit.

The old house on St. Clair street, adjoining the wooden bridge, occupied by Mr. W. B. Perry as a dye-house, was discovered to be afire about seven o'clock Wednesday evening. The alarm was given, and the fire brigade was promptly on hand, and did some good work to save the wooden bridge, Valley Mills, and other valuable property from destruction. The building caught fire from a defective flue, and the amount of damage sustained by Mr. Perry was about four hundred dollars, which was covered by insurance.

E. P. BRYAN, Agent.

Attend the temperance meeting at the court-house to-night.

Every church in this city, without a single exception, favors the enforcement of the Sunday Law.

R. H. Nicol & Co. advertise their flowers and plants for sale in this issue. They offer fine geraniums at one dollar per dozen, verbenas at seventy-five cents per dozen and other plants proportionately low.

If the immensely large crowds of people who attended the churches last Sunday morning and night is any indication of the sentiment of the people in this community in favor of the enforcement of the Sunday Law, then the majority of good people in favor of it is overwhelming.

Republican Meeting.

The Republicans of Franklin county are requested to meet at the court-house, in the city of Frankfort, on Monday, April 5th, 1880, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State Convention, which assembles in Louisville on Wednesday, April 14th, 1880.
By order of
THE COUNTY COMMITTEE.

White's School-House.

The boys have begun to examine their fishing tackle.

Mr. Henry Hearne and family have moved into the neighborhood.

The Missouri fever seems to be prevailing to a considerable extent in this vicinity.

Very little plowing has been done in this vicinity in consequence of wet weather.

Tobacco and hemp are the leading topics of conversation—tobacco being a little in the lead, at least as far as "give me a chew" is concerned.

There is talk of erecting a freight and passenger depot at Mr. James Hearne's gate. It certainly would be a very convenient point, and a great benefit to the community. Let's push the matter.

An old gentleman living in this neighborhood walked over to sit till bed-time with a neighbor last Saturday night, and in returning home he missed the road. After wandering around in the dark for several hours, he concluded to take lodging under a cedar bush. He had not been there long before he discovered a light close by, and called for help. A boy came out. The old gentleman said, "Young man, I'm lost, and I'll give you two dollars to take me home, and five dollars not to say anything about it." The boy took him safely home and the old man has not been seen out of the house since.

Farmers are about done delivering their tobacco to the warehouse at this place.

Tobacco seed is nearly all sown and there will be more of the weed so, in this part of the county than ever before.

This place is almost panic stricken over the havoc the scarlet fever is playing. Merritt Riddell's family, near this place, are all stricken down with this fearful disease; four out of ten have died in ten days, and the attending physician, Dr. Betts, says the remainder will die unless some one volunteers to take charge of them and wait upon them in their now helpless condition. The Doctor also reports four deaths in James Wm. Riddell's family, near here, and six more stricken down with this fatal disease. Mr. Riddell, although nearly fifty years old, is not expected to live, and many others are afflicted with this plague. Fifty or more children have died, in the Watson neighborhood, about four miles north of this place, in Owen county, since Christmas, with this disease.

Dan. Penn, colored, is languishing in jail awaiting a trial for striking Milly Harvey, colored, on the head with a heavy stick last Saturday evening. It was at first feared that the woman's skull was broken, and that her injuries would prove fatal.

The young ladies of Richmond gave a Leap Year hop on the 9th inst. Their programmes were gotten up in good style, and scattered through them were such sentences as these: "Each gentleman will select his vis-a-vis for the evening." "Gentlemen are not required to make immediate answers to proposals, but will be allowed time for consideration." "If any lady finds herself 'trapped' she may wink at her next best friend to relieve her, or raise her hand as a distress signal." "No bottled 'smiles' allowed."

We understand that the agent of the Encyclopaedia Britannica is meeting with a large patronage in Frankfort. We are glad to hear of his success, for it is a work that every lover of knowledge ought to possess. Notwithstanding that each volume of the Britannica costs the Edinburgh firm $100,000 the price now per volume is but little above that of some of the novels of the day. The Encyclopaedia Britannica is a vast picture gallery; an inexhaustible treasure-house of knowledge. Nothing but immense sales can possibly remunerate Messrs. A. & C. Black, its publishers, for their magnificent outlay of $2,000,000 in this world renowned enterprise.

On Friday of last week, at Hardinsville, Jas. T. Bright of that place, and Dick Owens, of Shelbyville, went into a bar-room and took a drink together, after which Bright told Owens to go out on the pike with him, that he wanted to "put a bug in his ear." They stepped out of the house, and Owens leaned over to hear what Bright had to say, when Bright commenced pummeling him in the face. Owens drew his pocket knife and cut and stabbed Bright three or four times, one stab being in the region of the heart. The wounds are quite serious, though they are not thought to be fatal. Bright will be remembered as the man who was shot three times by Alf Bently last year.

Poorly Paid.

The pay of the members of the City Council ought to be increased. They do a great deal of hard work, and then they have to stand a sight of hard cussing from the people who don't like the way their work is done. It is a hard matter to please everybody, and the Council ought to be paid for trying.—Yoman.

The members of the City Council are the best paid men in Frankfort for the service they perform.

Who furnishes the city pauts with groceries and provisions and gets pay from the city treasury for same? Councilmen Burns and Tobin.

Who does the city printing and draws pay therefor from the city treasury? The firm of which Mayor S. I. M. Major is the head.

Who gets more free advertising in Kentucky than any other brewer of beer in the State? Councilman Lischer.

Who gets the contract for furnishing horses and provender for the fire department? Councilman Church.

And yet they are poorly(?) paid. Would some benevolent individual pass around the hat and take up a collection for the members of the City Council?

Persons having gardens have been busy planting garden seeds during the pleasant weather of this week.

The stone towers of the railroad bridge have received a coat of paint this week, which adds much to their appearance.

An immense stock of spring and summer goods has been received by R. K. McClure & Bro. Read their advertisement in this issue.

Mr. Sidney French, Grand Worthy Counselor, I. O. G. T., organized four lodges of Good Templars in Bourbon county last week.

Who is the policeman that awakened a bar-keeper early last Sunday morning and told him to get up and open his saloon—that nothing would be done with him for it? We ask him to read section 3 of ordinance No. 24, and then answer if such conduct is in accord with the oath he voluntarily took when he entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Mr. Hiram Edwards, of Madison, Ind., was standing on the wall in the alley in the rear of the Baptist Church, Tuesday morning, looking at the raft of logs under the drift pile, with the intention of purchasing them, when a gust of wind took his hat off, and in trying to catch it he lost his balance and fell over the wall to the river bank below, a distance of twenty feet. He was knocked senseless by the fall, but, fortunately, escaped with only a few bruises.

As Messrs. Vol. Foote, Phil. Goin, Joe Wingfield, and others, were returning to town in a spring wagon from Elkhorn, where they had been fishing, Monday afternoon, the king bolt of the wagon broke, letting the fore wheels run out from under the bed, which dropped on the pike and split the party out. Mr. Wingfield happened to fall out first, some of the others fell on him, bruising him up considerably. It was rumored on the streets that Joe was killed by the fall, but we are happy to state that he will be able to take another fish before many days.

Gentlemen of the police force, when you were sworn into office did you swear to obey the State laws and city ordinances, or did you swear to obey the Mayor? If you swore to obey the latter, we have nothing to say; but if you swore to obey the former, read this:

It shall be the duty of the Police diligently to endeavor to detect offenders against the laws of the State, or the Ordinances or regulations of the city, and, when occasion requires, to arrest and commit them; to see that all disorders or disturbances of the peace are broken up, and that good order and quiet be maintained.—City Ordinance No. 24, Section 3.

Mr. Leslie Collins has purchased some very fine horses this week and sent them to W. B. Crabb, of Eminence.

Large quantities of Landreth's garden seeds, in bulk and in papers, can be had at LeCompte's South Side drug store.

Mr. Matt. E. Jett, of this city, has been awarded the contract for remodeling the Woodford county court-house, at $11,795.

Elder P. S. Fall will occupy the pulpit at the Christian Church to-morrow morning, at 11 o'clock. The usual services at night by the pastor. Seats free, and all are invited.

A couple of negro men, accompanied by twenty or thirty mountaineers, went up beyond the tunnel yesterday morning to have a wrestling match. It is said that the other man came off victor.

An east end young lady was taking some exercise on stilts Wednesday, and in attempting to walk up some steps she fell and hurt herself.

Buekhardt & Co., the boss butchers, have removed their meat store to Ann street, opposite the market-house, where they will be glad to see their old customers and the public generally. See advertisement.

Miss Laura Sargent, aged about fourteen years, had her right hand caught in the machinery at the cotton factory Thursday morning and so injured as to necessitate the amputation of her forefinger. Drs. Smith and Duvall performed the operation.

The supper given by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church at the residence of Mr. Jas. M. Todd Wednesday night was a delightful affair and a financial success—the amount realized being sixty-one dollars. The Roundabout office was kindly remembered by the managers, for which they will accept our thanks.

About nine o'clock yesterday morning, little Willie, son of Mr. Henry Gayle, aged seven years, was standing by the well in the yard, with his hand on the windlass, letting the bucket down. The windlass got to turning so rapidly that it threw the little fellow's hands off, and he fell, head foremost, into the well. It was about fourteen feet to the water, and before Willie reached it he grabbed the rope and held on manfully, letting himself down easy. The mother saw her child fall into the well, and screamed, attracting the attention of Jim Norral, colored, who was working near by. He ran hastily to the well, and taking in the whole situation at glance, lost no time in drawing Master Willie up in the bucket. No damage was done beyond a good ducking for the boy, and a terrible night for his mother.

The exchange of international money orders between the United States and France and Algeria will commence on the first of April. Money orders on post-offices in Great Britain, Germany, France, and Algeria can then be obtained at the Frankfort post-office.

Mr. Berberich has received another new lot of spring and summer suitings. He has had an unusual number of orders this season, and there seems to be no abatement in the demand. His tailors are kept busy day and night, and he is turning out some of the noblest suits in town. He never fails to give satisfaction in fits, quality of goods and prices. Call and see him if you want a real handsome spring suit.

A colored ex-convict by the name of Luther Harris was arrested Thursday afternoon by Officers Henry Brown and John Rupe, charged with having broken into the baggage room of the depot and stealing therefrom two suits of clothes, last week from a trunk belonging to Charley Bond, of Lawrenceburg. He drew a pistol on Officer Rupe and declined to be arrested, but Officer Brown came up at the very nick of time and caught hold of the pistol and used his "billy" with good effect at the same instant. He was safely lodged in jail.

We learn that Mr. Robt. Hancock, who lives just beyond Hardinsville, has sold his fine stock farm, of two hundred and fourteen acres, to Mr. Charley Julian, for the exceedingly low price of $12 50 per acre. The property cost Mr. Hancock $25 per acre, and if it had been properly advertised it would have brought $20 per acre without any trouble. It is thought that it would have brought more than the price for which it was sold if it had been sold at public auction. Mr. Hancock thinks of removing to Indiana, where he will engage in mercantile pursuits. His loss to the Hardinsville neighborhood will be deeply felt in that community.

A paragraph appeared in the Roundabout last Saturday, stating that the editor of the Louisville Sunday Argus "cats at the Capital Hotel free of charge and then goes home and abuses it as a third-class affair," and we wish to say that it was written on the strength of an article which appeared in the Argus of the 14th inst. and of a conversation had with the proprietor of the Capital Hotel in reference to the editor of the Sunday Argus, in which Mr. McLean said he wished the editor of the Argus would come up and pay his bills before he talked about him.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. W. H. Gardner, editor of the Argus, in which the following appears:

I paid for my dinner, seventy-five cents, as the clerk will testify. Any of my newspaper associates in Louisville can assure you that I am not of that class—nor is any other person connected with this office—who deadheads at hotels.

Without waiting for a reply to the letter he had written to us about the matter, Mr. Gardner caused to be published a card, which, to say the least of it, was not what might reasonably have been expected of a gentleman.

We have given above what Mr. McLean said, what we based the paragraph upon that gave offense to the editor of the Argus, what Mr. Gardner said, and here we drop the matter.

Epileptic Fits.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Jan. 4th, 1878.

James I. Fettes, Esq.

DEAR SIR—I have deferred writing to you ere this that I might be able to give an account of the effect of your medicine. I can now safely say that it is, undoubtedly, the best I ever tried, as there can be no doubt that my little girl is in a fair way of recovery, and you must bear in mind that this is a very bad case, and I do honestly believe that had I not given it to her she would have been dead ere this; now she eats heartily and is gaining in flesh, the fits are only partial and the action of the heart less terrible. I am, sir, yours respectfully,

D. WALTER OAKS.
